

Gota

Portugal

Winemaker: Natalia Jessa

Region: Dão, Portugal

Location: Dão, Portugal

Appellation: DOC Dão

The dry farmed, small, single vineyards that comprise Prunus are located in the lower elevations of the bowl that is the Dao.

Some lots are destemmed, crushed and left to soak on their skins for 24 hours, the remaining are whole cluster pressed into cement and stainless tank. 6 months lees contact before racking into stainless tank for filtration. Additional 6-12 months aging in bottle.

Practicing Organic

50% Encruzado, 15% Malvasia Fina, 15% Bical, 15% Cerceal Branco & 5% Other Varietals

About the Winery/Winemaker

Dão region is one of the oldest and one of the most complex regions of Portugal. The only one with a thick layer of snow during the winter. On the hills of the highest Portuguese mountain Serra de Estrela the vines fight or with frost or with baking sun. As an effect our Prunus delivers personality difference, elegance, freshness and softness. Indigenous grapes give aromas and flavors that become unmistakable and unforgettable.

Natalia Jessa is on the forefront of becoming the new face of Portuguese wines and one of the hardest working people around. Having relocated to Portugal for love from Poland via Ireland to Oporto, Natalia Jessa has really taken grasp of what is virtually an underserved market for inexpensive and incredibly delicious Portuguese wine.